“ Bessie,
I read a poem that reminds me so much of Wayne and what I think he might say to you if he could. I want to share it with you.

AFTERGLOW

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one. I'd like to leave an after glow of smiles now that my life is done. I'd like to leave an echo of "reminiscencing" about what I did or said, I'd like to leave a legacy of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun with all those happy memories that I leave now that my life is done.

To the family:

Weeping will endure for a night, but I promise you that joy will come in the morning. I'm praying for you and your family.##imported-begin##Lois M. Clark##imported-end## “ Unforgettable in every way, Unforgettable that's how you'll stay.

Wayne, you were more than just my cousin, more than just my friend, you were always a protector until the very end.

Many people may have been intimidated by your boisterous ways and size, but you were always like a great big teddy bear in my eyes.

Wayne, I'm going to miss you more than you'll ever know, but I do understand why God called upon you to go.

You see God has a purpose & God has a plan, that's why it's important for everybody to hold onto God's unchanging hand.

Until we meet again...

Love & Miss you, Stacey##imported-begin##Stacey Breath-Adams##imported-end##
