“ I was saddened to hear about Jack. I was so glad to see him a few years back at his old boss's funeral, Jr Reeves. Jack was pleasant as always. Jack never forgot my dad LaRue, and spoke highly of him during what proved to be our final visit on this earth. But what a day it will be when we all get together again for that great reunion in the sky. I know Jack is enjoying getting to see his Lord first of all, but also old friends that have gone on before him. Dad helped lead Jack to the Lord, so I have to think he was there to greet Jack. There should be more good men like them. They worked hard, but loved to work and coon hunt together. I know the family will treasure Jack's stories for years to come. The legacy he left as a good yet simple man is one I hold in high regard, and I know you will too. God Bless until we meet again! Glen Fox

Too often we underestimate the power of a touch, a smile, a kind word, a listening ear, an honest compliment, or the smallest act of caring, all of which have the potential to turn a life around. People come into our lives for a reason, a season, or a lifetime. Embrace all equally!
