I called him "James O." and he was quite a guy! I've known him about ten years and always enjoyed visiting with him in person and on the phone. It was so pleasant to run into him at a flea market. I'll miss him.

I served with Jim at his first duty station in Vicenza, Italy. Everyone knew back then he had a future. He was always curious, courteous and most of all eager to learn back then. I was proud to keep in touch with him over the years. Gary L. Wilkinson

I apologise for this late post. I had insurance business with James many years ago. We shared military stories and he suggested that I contact Dale Graham in Norman. (My VA benefits were always denied but Dale fixed that. James came to mind during this Christmas season and I sent a thank you text but did not know he had passed. God bless your soul James. And thank you for being my friend
