Jelina and I were classmates 12 years at Doyle. We enjoyed the classes, teachers, activities and of course, Basketball. I was so saddened to receive this news from another classmate, Joyce Turner Grigsby. My sympathy goes to all the family, especially Pat Blundell Hightower, her sister.

“ Jener was the first woman I ever knew that hunted. Without her example, who knows if I would have ever tried it out and fallen in love with the sport that ultimately led to my career choice as a biologist. She might have regretted being that example if she knew it led to me handling snakes (haha). Jener showed me that I was not limited to housework solely because of my gender. She was one tough lady and one I will always admire. -April (great-niece)
