“ *Trish and Greg,
I have gone to school with Connor from day one. We weren't attached at the hip, but he meant a lot to me as a friend. It's a shame it had to happen this early, I'll never forget it, and I'll always hate it. You never truly know what you have until it is gone. It wasn't until Connor's death that I looked back and realized just how often he made me laugh. I wish you all the best of luck in dealing with this. And as for Connor, he will always be me in my heart.*

*With all the love in the world,

“ Connor,

You my friend could bring life to any classroom you came into. I loved talking to you and Scottie about your future. Your passion for flying and the boy scouts was very evident. I'm very glad I had the chance to have been apart of your live and to see you grow as one of my SkillsUSA leaders. After you won at the state skills contest for bulletin board I knew that you could sale an Eskimo a pop sickle. We only need to trust in the Lord to know what he is doing. Proverbs 3 verse 5-6. “ Dear Connor:

We will miss your smiling face, your bolstering laugh, and your gentle way. You never realized the impact you had on all who met you. It was a rare occasion that you were in a bad mood, or angry. You lit up the lives of so many around you. On so many occasions you made me laugh even though I was the one mad. You were like a son to this family and have left an empty spot in our household and hearts. Because of your uniqueness, it is an open wound that will never be filled nor could it ever be by anyone. Whenever we needed you, you came running. Your strength helped us many times to move something heavy, and your inner strength helped us when we needed a hug or a laugh. Your footsteps were unique and I could always tell it was you, running up or down the stairs. You seemed to always jump the last two, always in a hurry. Much like your life. For someone so young you touched so many. Our lives are all better for having known you. When we can get to the point of remembering you without tears, then we can begin to grow in your positive spirit. And even though you weren't of my blood, you also called me "mom". And yes you loved a good meal, and I was always glad to cook you one, including the "salsa". Thank you for coming into our lives!###imported-begin###Salazar Family###imported-end##

“ Gordon and Mary and the rest of your family. You will know what is in my heart these trying times. No matter the age, when you lose a child, your first thoughts may not be of the child at death, but rather the baby at birth as I did with Carolyn. Thoughts may fade but the love and memory never goes away. I still love the family after all the years.
