“ About 20 years ago I found an injured red tailed hawk on the ground behind my home. With some help I managed to get it contained and safely inside away from the dogs. I called the county sheriffs office looking for assistance and will never forget what the deputy said to me. "You need to talk to the bird man. Phil Henderson is the state expert on raptors, he can help you." He gave me the phone number and I was introduced to this gentleman. Mr. Henderson told me where to take the hawk for treatment and who would do the rehabilitation and release it if it survived. He explained that when it was released it would return to it's home area. The people at Noble care called me the morning she was released. Later that day I stepped outside and heard the whistle. I looked up and saw a hawk making those lovely circles above the trees at my home. Maybe it was her, I believed it then and still do. Thank you Phil Henderson for helping me save that beautiful creature from the callous behavior of someone with a gun. When I see the hawks and kites it brings smile, thanks to the "bird man."

“ Susan, as did many, John and I loved Phil very much and will surely miss him. He was very unique and very caring.

All these things you probably know. I want you to know this, I will be here for you. I don't exactly what you are going through but I have had a great loss and maybe, just maybe I may have some words for you. Call me if you need to talk.

“ Phil was my cousin who always had a smile and good wishes for all. My mother, his Aunt Pat, always said that he was the only person she knew that always seemed to talk and smile at the same time. She really thought he was "the berries!" Of the Henderson cousins, he was the oldest. He was our wise, experienced elder even though he might have just gone into college, but to us, Phil knew big, older guy things. As time went on, we were all still drawn to him. You just knew that you'd come away from a visit with him feeling better about life. He also extended himself to me and my daughter when she was little by hooking her up with his granddaughter to ride his horses at the farm on the Washita. We also came to a shared awareness of having Choctaw ancestors. His spiritual side was expressed, I believe, through his connection with Indian beliefs and practices.

I can't believe that he's on the other side now. I don't have the words to express how much I'll miss just knowing that he's down there in Pauls Valley or at the Pig Shop. I want his family to know that I am sorry for their loss of Phil and hope that they sit around telling "Phil stories" for years. He'll live on that way in everybody's lives and hearts.

“ Ok so today they lay our friend to rest. Another story of our friend phil. During the drought back a few years ago the washita river pretty much dried up and the fence on Phil's land was up out of the water and Phil's horses got out again this time they stayed on the river and went downstream. Well Phil took his truck on the river to find them. When he found them he feed the white horse which is the dominant one. Once he got the white horse to follow the truck the rest of the horses followed. So Phil was driving up the river with 15 wild horses and 3 donkey's surround him in his truck. Bet that was a sight to see. Today Phil runs with horses once again.

“ David and my thoughts and prayers are with you Susan, Heidi, Jeff and the others of your families at this extremely difficult time for you. Like many others have expressed, we all are mourning Phil's sudden passing. Taken too soon!

Our back yard abuts the Nature Park's West side. In the 25 plus years we have lived at this home, Phil has helped us identify many bird species that came into our yard, taking the injured ones home to heal. He had a great compassion and love for all animals and people. Always called people by their name with a big smile on his face. Since David has been confined at home the last eight months, after a catering job from which he had leftovers, Phil would deliver meals to us and I suspect he did the same for others. That is just one of many examples of his caring shown to his friends.

Susan, and your extended family, please accept our heartfelt condolences to you all for your loss. We are so grateful for the life he lived among us all; but heartbroken about his death. Know that the man you all loved in different capacities mattered on Earth and made more than his share of contributions to it. We are so sorry he couldn't stay with you (and us) longer, but feel comfort in that his life will be remembered by so many for so long. I hope you find peace and comfort soon. Our love goes out to all of you, “ Words are not adequate to describe what Phil has meant to our community so I'll just post a funny memory. Michelle Tallchief reminded me of when he started the Panther Pinnars and he would take the kids to a match or tournament in the hearse and parents would follow. People would pull over for us thinking it was a funeral possession. That was 40 years ago. He touched a lot of lives. Not many funerals are held at the football field. That says it all. We will always miss you Phil and as hard as it is to go to the Pig Shop and you're not there, hopefully it will be renamed Phil's Bob's Pig Shop and we will know you're still there in spirit.

Thank you for that Phil. The work you did to admire, care for and rehabilitate animals in need made a lasting impression on me. We will all miss your presence on this Earth. “ Sure did love that guy! He was one in a million, and he could be a stinker, too. His laugh was so infectious. Never met a stranger, and treated everyone the same, whether you had a dollar or a million dollars. Phil was his own man, danced to his own drummer, and lived life to the fullest. We should all take a lesson from that. I have the utmost sympathy for Susan, Heidi, Jeff, and the rest of his family and friends, but I so glad you had so much time with him.

“ Back in early 2002 is when I started working at the paper and I was given the pig shop account to call on for special advertising things and growing up in pv everyone knew Phil so he never needed advertising, but it never failed when I'd call he buy.. Years later at a catered event he hosted I fell in love with his "special" potatoes and from that point on whenever he came in to the tag office and he knew I'd be coming to eat he always had some ready. He made me feel special and I am going to miss him dearly.. He touched us all. I am so very sorry

“ *There is so much that can be said for how Phil touched the lives of my family, as he touched many lives. The first time we met Phil was shortly after we moved to Pauls Valley.
Phil came to teach us how to clear a pond so we could try growing goldfish.*

*I had the privilege of working with Phil in a way most people didn't-- we built abstracts on the second floor of the courthouse, and had some great talks about the philosophy of life.
The greatest way in which Phil touched my family was in our children, and our sons-in-law, Matt Cash and Juan Bazan. He always had time to make them feel important.
Susan, you are one of the strongest people I know, steady and sure.
I appreciate that I have had you for a boss, and for a friend. I can only imagine the velocity with which this has struck you, and I pray God will help you sort it all out in a way that helps you have peace.
For all of you, Susan, Jeff, Heidi and all the beautiful granddaughters, I hope you have good memories to call on when you need them. God bless you all.*

“ I'm devastated. Phil was the dad I never had. He meant more to me that words can express. Heidi, Jeff, and Susan I wish I had magic words to make your pain disappear. I just saw him in July when my brother and I came back to Oklahoma for a family reunion. I have so many wonderful memories of Phil it would be impossible to pick a favorite. Camping, the teepee, sledding on a car hood, all the animals he nurtured back to health, the O' Deer family, adventures in the hearse, letting me and Heidi cut french fries at the Pig Shop, remodeling the Pig Shop, him bringing food to my grandparent's house when my mom died, him yelling and me and Heidi for torturing Jeff, the nature park, the list could go on forever. I KNOW I am a better person because Phil Henderson allowed me to be a part of his life.

I'm still trying to deal with this...just had a great visit and a couple of big hugs a couple of weeks ago. I'll always remember his free spirit...his thinking outside of the box...his big smile and twinkle...his giving to those in need...his love of the animal kingdom...his Love of his Family...always enjoyed hearing the grandkid stories when we crossed paths...those days of sailing and camp outs at Arbuckle Lake when we all got together...those cookouts at the Nature Park...and when he'd disappear just as it was getting dark...the kiddos were anxious..and excited...Phil would be hiding somewhere on the trails...those of us left at the cookout would laugh when we heard all the screaming!!! His Halloween porch antics...the kids would swarm the house...the 2 concerts that our lil group attended...John Denver!!! I remember both times...there was one song that finally came...when the music started...Phil raised up and said "YES!!!"..."The Eagle and the Hawk"....so...I'm imagining that he's flying right now...with the eagles and the hawks...and know...that he'll always be here with all of us...smiling...and twinkling...and all will be well. Love and Prayers to Susan, Jeff and wife, Heidi and Fiona...his other grandchildren...and the rest of his beautiful family. <3

“ Always felt lighter after a visit at the Pig Shop with Phil. He also went to my Highschool in OKC. I will see His good family in PV and be fortified by recalling some special times now gone by.

“ Every time I walked into the shop, Phil would pull a veggie burger out of the freezer for me... He kept them on hand and kept it a secret ;) I know he touched so many lives with his light and beautiful individualism. Phil gave me perspective and courage. His light lives on ...let his life be a true cause for celebration.

“ Phil stepped on the scene in Pauls Valley, when he married my classmate, Susan, and changed this little town forever! So many lives he touched, just by his smile, kind words, and genuine personality. God Bless his family and all who got to share even a small portion of his life.

“ Phil spoiled me to his "special potatoes" I had them at a wedding he'd catered and when he came into the tag office I went on and on about them so anytime I went in to eat lunch and I asked about them he would always make sure I had a small bowl.. He never knew a stranger, always had that beautiful smile on his face. He went out of his way to help my son once when he was going through a time and for that I will be forever grateful.. He left an impression on so many people that will never be forgotten.. I am so deeply deeply sorry for your families loss..
