“ I lived on a farm. When we were younger, we always got to do something especially since I felt like a grandkid. Anyway one summer Steve came down when they were cutting oats and my Dad was putting them in the grainer and it was really hot. Anyway my Dad stuck Steve and I in the grainer to push the oats down the sides to get more in the grainer. The oats made us very itchy and instead of taking a bath we went to the pond. It was very stupid because neither one of us could swim and there were water moccasins in this pond but we didn't care. Clothes and all we went in the pond and I think after that we used the water hose to wash off the pond water and the rest of the ichty oats. When all the grandkids came down we always found something to do if we weren't working.

“ I remember when The Willis' lived in Maysville and Steve and I went to cut broom corn
We were the two slowest guys in the field. They let us finish the day out and got fired the same day. We were a little upset that day. Mike got us the job. Fun times
