“ April, I don't know what to say as many don't so maybe these words will help - Some say you will feel their touch as the wind blows or as the rain falls, see them when you look into the sunlight or the stars at night, perhaps these are the openings of heaven shining through to let you know they are happy and they are still be with you everyday even if their body is able to. Love you and yours always.##imported-begin##Alicia White Holman##imported-end##

“ To Bill's sweet family: I feel such sadness when I hear of the death of one so young and vital to his family and community. I grieve for what might have been, because Bill was a former student in my classes at Wynnewood, and I saw how capable and winsome he could be. Even then, he was a leader and president of the sophomore class. I am glad to know he had a loving family and found great happiness in them. I send love to Ashley, too. He was a great brother, and all of you will miss him terribly. Cherish the happy memories and keep him alive in your hearts. My prayer is that God will give you comfort and strength for the days and nights ahead.##imported-begin##Laverne Gray##imported-end##

My heart hurts for you and the kids. I know you will miss your husband and his love he gave you and the kids everyday. Only the love and grace of God will help you heal. I wish I could say something to ease your pain but I know that is not possible. You and your family are in my thoughts and prayers. With love

“ April-I am so so sorry. I always thought of you and Bill as inspiration. You two were the perfect example of how young love was suppose to be. You guys made it look easy! I really enjoyed our time together while working with one another at Wal-Mart. There just are not words to express my sympathy to you, your children, or the rest of your family. My thoughts and prayers are with each and every one of you. Bill will live on in the memories and in your babies. God knows your pain. You just rely on him. I know that there is a multitude of people that love you all. Lean on them and let them help you through this. That goes for those of us that have not kept in touch due to jobs and life in general. I love ya kiddo and all you have to do is hollar. I will be in touch. Until then, know that I am praying for you and all of your family. God Bless...love

“ April, I am so sorry for your pain right now. I know you are hurting and you and your family are missing Bill so much. I also know God knows your pain better than anyone else ever can. He is right there with you during this time and during the time to come. God will fill all your needs. I imagine you might be worried about the future, but God is not. He didn't throw an emergency board meeting up in heaven wondering what to do now.....God knows exactly how to help you, how to love you and bring you that comfort you need. Rest in His arms and know that you have many friends and family praying for you and your children. Psalms 139:13-16

“ April, Tyler, Reese, and Natalie- We know this must be the most difficult time in your lives. There is so little we can do to ease the pain, but God can do what we can't. We will be praying daily that God will give you peace and strength for each new day. Tyler, Reese and Natalie, your mom sure did a wonderful job of picking the best daddy in the world for you. We know he loved each of you as much as he loved your mom. April, remember all those good memories of Bill and tell them often. God gave you Bill and he will give you what you need for the next part of your life too. We love you- Vicki and Bob###imported-begin##Vicki and Bob Kirby###imported-end##
